About Sunil Ohri

Sunil Ohri is Of Counsel with Stein Mitchell Cipollone Beato & Missner LLP. Bridging the worlds of law and technology for more than two decades, Sunil has broad and deep experience in optimizing best practices and workflows to effectively control the document management life cycle – as part of a larger Information Governance methodology – and bring predictability to the legal spend associated with the Electronic Discovery Reference Model (EDRM). He custom designs solutions for each individual client, with an understanding that information management practices and processes must fit seamlessly within the organization's workflow and culture to succeed. As a trusted advisor, he combines this same legal expertise and technological know-how to proactively guide clients through critical dimensions of modern litigation – i.e., e-discovery and federal rules of procedure, risks, technology, and cost containment/management – to create a structured and sustainable litigation-prepared environment.

About Stein Mitchell Cipollone Beato & Missner LLP

Stein Mitchell Cipollone Beato & Missner LLP combines the skills of seasoned litigators with the flexibility and personal touch of a dynamic law firm that has made a difference for our clients for nearly half a century. We are recognized as "the small firm that takes on big cases and wins" and are committed to exceeding each client's objectives and expectations. Our long-term clients value our experience, agility and dependability in handling complex, high-stakes legal matters. Personal attention, collaboration, cost-effective and successful results are the hallmarks of the service our clients have come to expect.

Our clients look to us to give them an edge by developing creative solutions to complex problems aimed at securing winning outcomes. Well-defined goals, clear strategies, disciplined implementation, and rigorous attention to detail allow us to meet and exceed our clients' legal and business needs. We employ a time-tested approach to our clients' legal needs to ensure their objectives are met and manage every case with intensive organization as we begin preparing for trial from day one.

To reduce litigation costs and streamline the path to success, we use discovery and motions practice to focus on core issues and minimize expense. Our approach is founded on an early focus on key issues and ultimate goals in order to deliver a timely and successful outcome. Our experience and size give us the capacity to respond efficiently and effectively to dynamic client requirements throughout various stages of litigation.

Assembling the right team of attorneys and experts allows us to pivot into action with the scalable resources to respond decisively to any situation. Our well-earned reputation as a top-tier litigation firm with a national practice rests not only on our history of success over half a century, but also on the on-going confidence of our clients who entrust us with their most complex and challenging legal matters.

Event Synopsis:

E-discovery is becoming the de facto source of evidence in many legal cases. However, many attorneys struggle to stay abreast of the latest rules, regulations, case law, and ethical pitfalls involving electronically stored data. Many lawyers also struggle to understand the complex and multi-disciplinary aspects of E-Discovery law. A weak grasp of E-Discovery poses a risk to the practicing lawyer, his firm, and his clients.

In this CLE Webinar, a panel of skilled practitioners will provide the audience with a unique perspective that reveals legal oversights, litigation risks, indefensible proposals, improper methods, weak searches, and many more useful hints and tips to strengthen your position as an E-Discovery lawyer.
